Power of Truth vol. 9 Available in January

We're proud to announce that the ninth mp3-CD of Dr. William Pierce's speeches — The Power of Truth, vol. 9 — will be available for ordering in January. The 20 speeches on this CD (ten times as much material as an ordinary CD), unlike pirated versions, have been remastered from the original tape recordings and include several speeches not available anywhere for decades. Watch our online Cosmotheist book store at cosmotheistchurch.org/shop to order, or simply send $22 cash, MO, or check to our postal address above.

More Synthetic Outrage Over Alliance Stickers in Iowa

Throughout the month of December in the Quad-Cities region of Iowa and Illinois, local media there, especially in Bettendorf and Iowa City, featured nearly a dozen articles about the distribution of National Alliance stickers and fliers. Some of these were even picked up and spread to a wider readership by the Associated Press and the Washington Post. On 6 December the following photo and accompanying caption were featured over crime reporter Kevin Schmidt's report, which is mostly just his interview of a "shocked" Iowa City resident, Cynthia Bleich:

Quad-Cities free publications have been hijacked and used to distribute National Alliance information. The National Alliance is a neo-Nazi/white supremacists [sic] organization.

George Bleich was returning to his Bettendorf home on Pinnacle Pines Court Tuesday morning when he saw something out of place lying in his front yard. "George thought maybe it was a newspaper rolled up," his wife, Cynthia Bleich, said. "When he picked it up, he was shocked. He looked around and saw there were some other rolled-up pages on our neighbors' driveways. "We have lived in this neighborhood for 15 years and we've never seen anything like that around here. It was shocking and upsetting."

What George Bleich found Tuesday morning was a rolled up edition of the free publication Quad Cities Dining Guide, bound by a sticker from the National Alliance that read "Send them back. They can't make White babies." Cynthia Bleich said she knew the National Alliance, a white nationalist group, has been active in distributing literature in the Quad-Cities for many years, but wanted to contact media immediately... "You have to stand up and reject this kind of hate," Bleich said.

Cynthia Bleich said. "My husband and I and our neighbors... know we have to speak out and reject this garbage thrown on our property. But at the same time, we don't want to give this National Alliance any more publicity." Cynthia Bleich and her neighbor, Rex Grove, said they "fear for the young people who get such intolerant messages... How sad that young people are told horrible things about the people who come to this country." Bleich said she hopes more people speak out against "hate propaganda"...

That must have been a slow week on the crime beat in Bettendorf. On December 27 reporter Aaron Scheininblum for KCRG told how Iowa City Police are investigating "hateful fliers." KCRG's video featured a photo of the same "Send Them Back" sticker, except with our natall.com Web address redacted for fear that someone might contact us.

Capt. Bill Campbell of the Iowa City Police Department asked, "Are they a freedom of speech issue, or do we have something where we have harassment and then, in turn, perhaps a hate crime that goes on?" Campbell said with Iowa City's recently adopted hate crime ordinance, they are looking more carefully at the information they receive to differentiate between free speech and hate speech, saying [National Alliance pamphleteers] are "walking a fine line."

"Where the hate crime ordinance really comes into play is when we deal with someone who's handing out something and it's specifically addressing or specifically intended to intimidate or alarm or annoy the receiver, and they're a part of that protected category or that protected class." In a press release Iowa City Police Chief Jody Matherly said the new ordinance sends a message about commitment to reducing acts of hate in Iowa City. "While harassing another person is already unlawful under state law, such intimidating or threatening communication directed at someone because of the color of their skin, who they are, or what they believe is an abominable act that our community takes seriously," Matherly said in the release. "This ordinance will send a strong message that should a person choose to commit such hateful acts, the punishment will be severe."

Free Speech: Use It or Lose It

Police Chief Matherly and Police Captain Campbell should know that Iowa City's enhanced "hate crime" ordinance does not supercede nor contradict the free speech clause of the First Amendment of the US Constitution that they swore an oath to uphold and abide by; and that their threatening National Alliance pamphleteers with "severe punishment" for distributing perfectly legal, Constitutionally-protected Alliance material to our own people in their community could be considered the actual "hate crime" by their own definition, Matherly and Campbell cannot argue with the First Amendment. Every Alliance member has been sent a hard copy of the one-page fact sheet entitled "Our Right to Distribute Literature is Guaranteed by the US Constitution." This sheet should be carried by each and every Alliance activist whenever he or she distributes a flier, a sticker or a card, and should be shown to any law enforcement official who might challenge our right to distribute. If an activist has misplaced this fact sheet or joined the Alliance after we distributed them, please visit natall.com/rights and print a copy. In addition to having this fact sheet on one's person, it is recommended that a pamphleteer also carry a card like the one illustrated above (which may be photocopied in quantity) to politely hand to an officer if stopped or detained.

Cosmotheist Books

Cosmotheist Books recently offered Don Juan in Hell, which is chapter three of George Bernard Shaw's Man and Superman, a primary work that Dr. William Pierce credited to influencing his thinking, and that led him to found Cosmotheism as the far-reaching philosophy and belief system for White people. This month we add the entire classic volume of Man and Superman that also includes Shaw's The Revolutionist's Handbook and his Maxims For Revolutionists. Other classic titles being added to our online bookstore are The Iliad by Homer (The Odyssey by Homer is already offered); Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet; Nathaniel Hawthorne's The Scarlet Letter; and Joseph Conrad's novella, Heart of Darkness that was the basis for the epic war movie Apocalypse Now about Vietnam. Additional assorted titles added this month are composer/author Richard Wagner's A Pilgrimage to Beethoven and Other Essays; Carl Gustav Jung's Memories, Dreams, Reflections; Life and Work in Medieval Europe by Prosper Boissonnade; Pearl Harbor: the Story of the Secret War by George Morgenstern, published by the Institute of Historical Review, and Robert A. Carter's Buffalo Bill Cody: the Man Behind the Legend.

Cosmotheist Books continues to seek ways to get around the Jew's blocking customers from using credit cards to purchase our online books and CDs. We may have found a way to get around the censors, so keep trying at our online store: cosmotheistchurch.org/shop — we will know some time in January if we have been successful. In the meantime, orders by mail with check or money order work well, and then there is cryptocurrency. If crypto still seems alien and too complicated to you, please read the excellent "cryptocurrency simplified" tutorial at nationalvanguard.org/cryptoguide — it's easier than you think to get around those who would deny us online commerce. Give it a try.

Legal Update

Speaking of those who deny online commerce to us, consider the Jew Dan Schulman, who owns PayPal, the giant online financial service with 21 million merchant affiliates. We mentioned in an earlier BULLETIN that Schulman had admitted in a Wall Street Journal interview back in February that he is advised by the Jews at the Southern Poverty Law Center as to who he should blacklist. So, monopolistic PayPal denies its must-have service to those that the Jews at SPLC don't like. In May, PayPal not only shut down our accounts but, worse, confiscated more than $1,000 of our funds with no reason given. They told us they would hold our money for 180 days, at which time our funds would be released back to us. When PayPal refused to return our confiscated funds after six months we were told by some Asian PayPal "representative" that they would be keeping our money "for damages." Damages? A complaint has been filed by us with the Tennessee Department of Financial Institutions, and that complaint is now pending. We were told by that agency that PayPal has requested an extension of time to respond to our complaint. PayPal must have needed time to think up some "damages" we caused them by their stealing our money. The response we received from PayPal after their being granted the extension was pathetic; they totally failed to justify their phantom "damages." Someday the pompous Jewish thieves will be the ones who are actually "damaged" by one of the many outraged victims of their overweening theft.

Jim Mathias lost his appeal to the Iowa Supreme Court. On 6 December Iowa's highest court affirmed the lower court's lower court ruling that the stadium parking lot where Jim was placing Alliance fliers that night in September 2017 — a stadium that is nowhere near a school — is “school property.” Thus, since Jim had his perfectly legal sidearm on his person when distributing those “Love Your Race” fliers, his felony conviction for “possessing a firearm on school property” was upheld. In the ruling, which defies common sense, the court held that the “grounds of a school” can include school district-owned athletic facilities. Iowa statutes make mention of “school districts” numerous times, yet say nothing whatsoever about school district-owned properties, just schools — schools with classrooms where students attend their classes. The sensational headline in the local paper that day read: “Man found guilty for carrying guns on school grounds after 2017 incident.” Oh, my! The man must have had multiple guns, and on school grounds, too. (Not true. Jim had only one perfectly legal sidearm with him, and if he’d been standing one foot outside the parking lot, there would have been no pretext for his arrest.) He must be one of those “school shooters.” And he had National Alliance “hate literature” on him, too! Oh my! The media lie; even their headlines are lies. Arrested — lied about in the media — falsely convicted of a felony — for simply exercising the rights our forefathers established for us in the First and Second Amendments.

What a country! Jim could take this highly appealable case to the US Supreme Court. His would be a career case for an honorable and righteous Constitutional attorney. Does any reader know one who would take Jim’s case pro bono? He is personally tapped-out financially over this ordeal.

At the Alliance’s hearing before the Sixth Circuit Court in Piatt County, Illinois, on 13 December, where we asked the judge there to reconsider his decision time-barring our counterclaim against the McLaughlin estate (described in the November BULLETIN), our motion was denied. Our objective argument for reconsideration was quite strong, so our attorney then wrote a formal letter to the judge, letting him know that we will appeal his decision if he doesn’t reconsider his peremptory ruling. That letter was ignored so the Alliance has formally filed its Notice of Appeal.

Attorney Glen Allen’s strong federal lawsuit against the SPLC that was dismissed, also described in last month’s BULLETIN, is explained further here: <https://nationalvanguard.org/2019/12/glen-allens-lawsuit-against-the-splc-we-will-appeal-adverse-ruling/>

Mr. Allen has now filed his Notice of Appeal to the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals. He writes:

Judge Blake’s dismissal was egregiously flawed in numerous respects, so I have good prospects for a reversal if I can get a fair shake in the Fourth Circuit. Decisions such as Judge Blake’s — and unfortunately there are many others — admittedly give grounds for a degree of cynicism about our justice system, but Quixotic man that I am I prefer to believe there are judges who decide cases on principles and not politics.

Correspondence

Hello Chairman Williams: I received my Cosmotheist Books order today. I have now completed The Power Of Truth collection with Vol. 7, and with Vol. 8, that is playing as I pen this writing. I wanted to say thank you for all the dedication of the guys and gals at the National Office. I have begun placing the “Send Them Back” stickers around various counties. 2020 will be a year that the NA expands to the West Coast. Respectfully,
— B.M., California

Dear ladies and gentlemen of the National Alliance: I hope you are all well. Enclosed please find $300 — $240 to cover 2020 dues and $60 to cover the two book offer of Imperium Europa and Cosmotheism. Thank you for all of your great work for our Volk. Best regards, — B.K., Florida

Chairman Williams: I am ignoring the [anonymous detractors] and you are playing it smart debating them selectively as foils, to show those observing that the National Alliance is the real thing. I admire your confidence and certainty in dealing with these anti-NA trolls. I listen and read Dr. Pierce's teachings and admire how Pierce didn't tiptoe around anything, and, like you said, was consistent in his world view. One of the things that got me hooked on Pierce's teachings is that he never was a walking, talking contradiction (not once ever that I've found), like these egalitarian nutcases around me who are causing a horrible disservice to our kind. I will always keep on reading, learning, and understanding the concepts of Dr. Pierce. One thing I also appreciate is that even though he is dead, his words are still relevant today almost as if he could see into the future. The pictures he paints of American society are terrifyingly accurate today...

What you told me about Lana and the way holidays in Russia are celebrated is interesting, especially that Christmas isn't big in Russia, but the New Year is. I hope you both have a good Yule and New Year. Russians aren't our enemies; they are our friends. I find it crazy that even though the Soviet Union was under Jewish rule, average Russians who are our European brothers and sisters and who suffered a horrid disservice in the 20th century are seen as our enemies by some Americans. I have a lot of respect for Russia and I think Russians are beautiful, although I fancy German women most with their blonde hair and blue eyes like my ancestors from Lower Saxony. Our race has many beautiful women. Also an important question, would you mind if I used Dr. Pierce's broadcasts to teach other people around me, around a dozen other boys who are considering helping me. Would you be fine with that? — J.G., New York

Chairman Williams responds: J.G. is a rather exceptional teenager. He introduced himself to me through private messages on the Stormfront discussion board. His parents have raised him right, familiarized him with the Alliance several years ago, and approve of his promotion of the NA. I informed him that the National Alliance is an adult organization and that we look forward to his applying for membership when he comes of age. Until then he should keep educating himself, and I suggested he use our Power of Truth CD series for listening parties with his crew of young Whites. He wants to start an Alliance Youth group which is fine as long as he has approved adult supervision and mentoring. We will see. It's edifying to see White youth like J.G. attracted to National Alliance teachings.

Greetings National Alliance: I have always been more of a lurker than someone who actively participates in online forums. I hope to not continue that on here. I am newly married with my first baby on the way so most of my time is spent planning for the future of my family. The time that I do have I try to spend well. When I am learning during that time it means I am reading. I have acquired more books than I can read from the National Alliance's online bookstore. It will keep me busy for a long time to come. Our race's future will be in the next generation's hands before we know it.

The way I came to find the National Alliance was through Infinity Chan. It was there that I learned a great deal about those of European descent. There was a lot of good but also a whole lot of bad on that site. I was captivated by it for over a year. I was confused and sickened because of it. But what it did was wake me up from my sleepy state and give me clarity. I was awakened to the realities of this world now because of it. What it did not give me, however, was a sense of purpose. I didn't feel the solution there. I was stuck in the cycle of sickness and hatred. Then I clicked on a video someone posted on a self improvement thread. It was an American Dissident Voices program. I heard Dr. Pierce for the first time. I was mesmerized. At that moment I felt like I had found a teacher, someone who could provide the answers to the questions I wasn't even asking. I started listening to every broadcast of his that I could. It wasn't long after that I took the leap and joined the NA. — AngloSaxonJG, Maryland (introducing himself at our White Biocentrism forum)

Will, keep up the good work at the National Alliance — I appreciate how you and the Alliance don't compromise on the issue of religion. — F.G., California

Chairman Williams: Thank you for the copy of Lowell's Imperium Europa! I was reading Hans Schmidt's SS Panzergrenadier when this arrived. I'll put that one aside for now and see what Imperium Europa has to offer — then read the review of it at Heritage and Destiny. Incidentally, I hadn't really sent any monthly activity reports of late but have been as active as possible while caring for my dad during mid-October until December 1st when he passed. During that time I had still managed to distribute 200-300 "Send Them Back" stickers as the news reports had shown. Since our new Health Warning stickers came right after my dad's passing, I've put out a perhaps 150-200 already. The president of the local chamber of commerce went to the bother of "denouncing" us in a local media opinion piece. I think we're upsetting his apple cart, or something. Maybe it's those free rags (used as dead weight to carry our message) complaining about it to him... can't imagine why since they're getting free exposure. With my best regards to you folks, Lana, and faithful staff. — Jim Mathias, Iowa

Commentary by Chairman William White Williams

Library Progress; MLK Activism; Recruiting

Goodbye Majestic Poplar

While clearing the site for the future William Luther Pierce Memorial Library a year ago, we spared the very large, very old poplar shown here, hoping to work around it. Unfortunately, an arborist advised that this tree (11 feet in circumference) had significant interior rot. It had already dropped one large limb, and part of the remaining mass would have leaned over the library. So, regrettably, it had to go. Note the poplar's enormous root ball in the other picture, behind the fire in the foreground, taken as we did further clearing for the library. The upside of the loss of this poplar is that we now have more room to place the building.

It's That Time of Year Again

Every year the same old propaganda is trotted out in the controlled media celebrating the degenerate Michael King (aka "Reverend Doctor Martin Luther" King, Jr.) to coincide with the national holiday named for him. So what can we do to expose these lies? Distribute our accurate and truthful flier alerting fellow Whites to the fraud, that's what. One of our No King Over Us fliers is enclosed. Get a print-ready file of this flier here: natall.com/fliers — then take it to your local copy store and print as many as you think you can distribute. Fold them yourselves to save money or have the print shop fold them for a nominal charge. Should you hand one to another kinsman face-to-face you might say, "Read this to discover why this communist reprobate's FBI file is sealed until the year 2027."

Also enclosed is the "NA Health Warning" that was featured on the front page of last month's BULLETIN. A print-ready file for this flier is also available at natall.com/fliers. Most print shops can produce these stickers from the file, or trusted Alliance member Jim Mathias can be contacted at our White Biocentrism forum by private message (PM) and he will send any number desired at a reasonable cost plus postage. He has also generously offered to supply the MLK fliers to our activists. Contact him ASAP by PM at whitebiocentrism.com and tell him how many you would like.

More on Recruiting

The National Alliance is not trying to become the biggest pro-White organization, only the best. We will look at one of the four types of recruits Dr. Pierce warned us to avoid in each of the next four BULLETINS. Here's this month's entry, "the talker."

The talker. Gossip is an almost universal human pastime. Most people, even if they don't talk much themselves, like to hear other people talk about their neighbors and co-workers. The desire to express one's opinions or to listen to a bit of gossip occasionally is not necessarily a weakness or a sign of poor character. In some people, however, talkativeness goes beyond reasonable bounds: the desire to talk becomes a compelling need.

Compulsive talking is generally regarded as a feminine trait, but the problem occurs in men as well as in women. It is a trait we do not want in our members.

In the first place, compulsive talking tends to become a substitute for action: the talker is seldom a doer. In the second place, it more often than not indicates an underlying personality defect: the person who talks too much to his friends is likely to be a weak person who will yield to pressure to betray some friends if he finds himself in a difficult situation. And in the third place, any organization, like the National Alliance, which is surrounded by people who would like to see it come to grief must exercise some control over information about its members and activities; control is difficult to exercise if compulsive talkers are in our ranks.

I have been disappointed that recruiting by our members has not been as successful as it should be. Perhaps it is a sign of the times: too many people get an illusion they're "doing something" by commenting on Facebook and Instagram or "tweeting" and texting among their "likers" and "followers." I just don't get it. Those things are fine, if used to promote the Alliance, but they shouldn't be ends in themselves. The National Alliance and the Cosmotheist church are real social groups where people meet, work, learn, marry, have and raise children — groups that have the potential to live for centuries and beyond. Alliance members are participating in building real-world infrastructure, social institutions, and publications that can stand the test of time — instead of just "tweets" that are erased or forgotten in a day. I ask everyone who receives this BULLETIN to actively recruit at least two new Alliance members in 2020. W. W. W.
